Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

May Christ guide and strengthen you this week!

So, last week, we remembered that God expects us to become apostles, and the week before, saints. Tall order, isn’t it? Definitely!

The third “universal call,” to formation, gives me hope. Formation is simply a big word meaning lifelong growth in knowledge and virtue. We can’t stop learning! You see, neither God nor the Church expect us instantaneously to become perfect saints and apostles. Rather, we must simply desire to grow in that direction, and work towards that growth.

In God, every moment of time, from the creation to the end of the world, is equally present. What does this mean in English? Picture time as a film strip with each second/instant as a frame. Almighty God can see every frame at the same time. On that strip, are two frames. The first one, is the moment you decide to become a saint and apostle. The other one, is the moment you become a saint and apostle in total, actual fact. God sees both of those as the same moment. Yes, that’s deep; yes, that should make your head hurt, but isn’t it beautiful!!!

Formation/Education take many different aspects. There are so many ways to grow, and we will look at those aspects in future letters. For now, let’s look at one that is often forgotten: professional formation. Now obviously, I will not, cannot tell you exactly how to do your profession/job better than you currently are. I do not know what exactly goes into selling a house or removing an appendix or grilling that perfect steak. But I do know this. You selling that house (or removing that appendix or grilling that steak) as best you can, and doing what you can to do it better than you did last week, that devotion to the profession God gave you, is very pleasing to Him.

Professional formation takes many forms. It might mean reading an article or book, taking a class, asking for tips from someone more experienced (picture below, the divine Rabbi showing us that it’s good to learn from fellow rabbis). Whatever it is, do it, and know that Jesus and I bless it.

Until next week, know that I remain

Yours in the Heart of Christ,

Fr. Evans

Prayer for Priests
All-powerful Father, Son and Holy Spirit, be with and guide our priests this day and throughout this year. Bless them with your best gifts and give them the graces needed to serve and shepherd your people. Guard them from all that is evil and from all that may threaten their faith, hope and inner peace. Protect them from discouragement, from pride and from weariness, within themselves and in their people. INFUSE WITH YOUR LOVE, helping them to share your love with all whom they meet. Strengthen them, dear Lord, as they spend their lives giving glory to your Name. Amen.

ENTRUSTED TO OUR CARE: “Man was put on this earth, as Scripture tells us, not to leave things the way they were. God created Adam and He put him in the garden to take care of it. Man is supposed to transform his world so that it bears a mark of his own intelligence and his own art and his own concern, because only if that is there can there be a Christian dimension to all this. If the world is going to be Christianized it automatically means to be humanized.” — Bernard Cooke
